FRESNO, Calif. —

Casey "The Underdog" Olson will have to change his nickname soon. Olson needed only half of the first round to dispose of the overmatched Tony Boyles at Cage Combat Fighting Championships "Rumble in the Park II" at the Woodward Park Amphitheatre.

Dominant lightweight Olson immediately took the fight to the ground, patiently improving his position until he locked on the winning arm-triangle choke at 2:28 to boost his record to [10] - 2.
